

RIVER CHANNEL TO BE ENVY OF INLAND PORTS, SAY EXPERTS

Plans Call for Deeper and Wider Pathway in Delaware

TO WIDEN THE BENDS

Turning Basin at Trenton Will Also Be Greatly
Enlarged

Under the plans of the Federal Government for deepening the channel of the Delaware River a veritable ocean ship canal from Trenton to the sea—a waterway which experts say will be the envy of inland ports, will be created.

When the deeper and wider channel is completed, waterway experts claim, freight vessels of great draft, plying in the world trade, will be able to steam to Trenton with full cargoes.

Widening of the channel to an extent making it capable of accommodating more than 90 percent of the world's largest vessels, will be an important part of the Federal Government's deepening project, it is revealed today. The work will start almost immediately.

The project will require the dredging of the present channel an additional five feet and will involve digging a 25-foot channel 100 feet wide from Trenton to Allegheny Avenue, Philadelphia.

According to plans for the further deepening of the river channel as set forth in the engineers' report, the present 400-foot turning basin at the Trenton Marine Terminal will be widened to a total of 500 feet. This will entail dredging all these areas to a maximum depth of 25 feet.

Plans also call for the widening of the bends in the river in order to cut the new channel as straight as possible.

Suggests Tournament Be Revived for Women

Since the revival of the men's municipal tennis tournament this year, a number of requests have been made for a women's tournament also, so a group of young women headed by Louise Lawrence have decided to hold one providing they can get enough entries.

A meeting will be held at Miss Lawrence's home, 338 Radcliffe street, Friday evening, at 7 o'clock, where any young woman desirous of entering the tournament may do so.

"There should be enough women tennis players in town to make up both a singles and doubles tournament," said Miss Lawrence yesterday, when discussing the possibilities. "I should think that many of our school teachers, who play tennis, could enter and we could have just as good games as the men."

Attorneys For Dairy Are Expected To Answer Charges

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14—(INS)—Attorneys for the Scott-Powell Dairies today were expected to answer a charge made at the third session of the rehearing on the Philadelphia milk shed marketing agreement that field representatives of the company threatened to cease purchasing milk from certain farmers unless they purchased bonds of a subsidiary, the Dairy Distributors Company.

The charge was the most sensational thus far developed at the hearings on the milk code which farmers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia are attacking.

H. D. Allebach, president of the Interstate Milk Producers Association, an organization of dairy farmers, admitted on cross-examination from the witness stand that he counseled a farmer to buy the bonds or suffer the penalty of losing a superior rating for his milk.

Allebach's letter, so stating, written to James J. Pettit, of Salem, N. J., was introduced at the hearing by Charles Edwin Fox, former district attorney, and counsel for the Milk Code Protection Committee.

ADVOCATE GENERAL STRIKE

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 14—One of the largest secret political organizations opposed to President Grau San Martin's government is campaigning for a general strike as a means of driving out the new Cuban administration. International News Service learned today on reliable authority. If the move is successful, its sponsors believe it will lead to the overthrow of President Grau San Martin and the restoration of former President Carlos DeCéspedes, ousted from office by the second revolution. It is rumored the organization is trying hard to force the strike within 48 hours. Meanwhile Havana remained quiet and reports from other centers stated order prevailed despite many rumors of unrest. Army spokesmen declared the general strike movement is doomed since the National Workers' Union is steadfastly supporting President Grau San Martin. They further pointed out the strike of ice-men and beer truck drivers has been settled while the striking laundrymen, 10,000 strong, are simply asking higher wages as are the striking Woolworth employees who now receive what army quarters term "unlivable" wages.

WHOLESALE RIOTING

Uniontown, Sept. 14—Wholesale rioting, gun battles and free-for-alls at three mines of the H. C. Frick Coke Company ushered in south-western Pennsylvania's second major coal mine strike within a month, today. At least twenty miners, pickets and deputies were reported hurt in the three outbreaks staged at Edenhorn, Gates and Footdale mines. One of the injured, Joseph Darrow, 40, of Edenhorn, was beaten so badly it was feared he would die. All three riots occurred when miners opposing the "holiday" voted to become effective today, attempted to go to work through lines of pickets.

LOSES NERVE TO END LIFE

Philadelphia, Sept. 14—Leaving a note for his wife, Michael Susan early today climbed 350 feet to the top of the Philadelphia tower of the Delaware River Bridge and then lost his courage to make the suicide leap. Perched atop the girder he watched in silence for more than 10 hours while police dragged the river for his body. Finally a patrolman spotted him high up in the air, concealed in the frame work of the girder. At last he was induced to climb down and was lodged in a cell.

MOTORISTS LAX IN INSPECTION OF AUTOS

Sergeant Says No Sane Reason
Why Many Cars Are Uninspected

OCTOBER 1ST DEADLINE

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 14—Motorists in Bucks county have been very lax. Sergeant Albert A. Discavage, of the State Highway Patrol said today in having their automobiles inspected and approved for the last inspection period of 1933.

Sergeant Discavage declared that arrests will be made after October 1, the "dead-line" for having cars inspected and the new stickers placed on the windshields.

Officers stationed at the Langhorne and Doylestown sub-stations have orders to warn all motorists to get busy and not wait until the last minute with the result that excuses will be offered that "I have not had time to have the car examined."

"We expect to pay strict attention to the law in reference to having automobiles inspected, more so than ever before," declared Sergeant Discavage. "We have been trying to bring down the number of accidents to a low average and it can only be done by having nothing but safe cars on the highways. There is no sane reason why more than 75 per cent of the cars in Bucks county have not been inspected and passed by this time."

Sergeant Discavage also stated that all inspection stations will be checked up thoroughly within the next few weeks and that closer supervision over the various garages is already under way.

Speed maniacs who insist in cavorting about the highways of Bucks county, are in for another dose of fine money, Sergeant Discavage warned today. Patrol officers will conduct speed traps in various sections of Bucks and Montgomery counties during the next ten days. A recent drive against speed law violators resulted in the arrest of scores of motorists and the Patrol officers have orders to continue their efforts to break up speeding until violations are brought down to a new low mark.

APPLE YIELD IS ABOUT 75% NORMAL IN BUCKS

Heavy Storm During August
is Cause, Says Co. Agent
W. F. Greenawalt

PEACH RETURN IS LOW

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 14—The apple yield in Bucks County this Fall will be about 75 per cent of normal, states County Agent William F. Greenawalt, the low returns for the season being caused according to the agent by the heavy storm during the latter part of August. "This storm caused almost a total loss of some of the early varieties because they were blown from the trees," says Mr. Greenawalt.

In respect to the Grimes Golden variety, particularly, it is said the storm served as a thinning medium where the trees were heavily set.

The peach crop of this year was far below normal. It is estimated by Mr. Greenawalt that there was about a 60 per cent yield. There were three causes for the shortage in the peach yield this Fall. They were Winter kill, the late frost last Spring and the heavy storms during the latter part of August. The storms were responsible for the great loss among the early varieties and even some of the later varieties suffered as the result of having been blown from the trees.

It has been learned that Winter kill caused practically total losses at National Farm School, near Doylestown, and at the orchards of Ralph T. Crowell, Buckingham.

Heavy losses as a result of the storm in August included Samuel L. Paxson and Edward M. Paxson, Solebury; Hartford G. Benner, Coopersburg; W. G. Stauffer, Spinnerstown, and Robert E. Atkinson, Wrightstown.

The grape crop this season, while not an entire failure, is very poor because of the poor weather conditions. This caused a lack of uniformity in ripening and many of the grapes dropped from the vines prior to maturity.

Commenting upon the corn crop, Mr. Greenawalt stated that fields not advanced too far at the time of the storm in August are showing up well and they provide a fair yield, but corn which had eared at the time of the storm will not mature. There will be many soft ears and farmers, realizing this condition, are refraining from holding it over for husking, but are storing it in the silos.

Erosion of the fields during the heavy rains in August is also resulting in great loss for the farmers throughout the county. The wet weather has also been responsible for disease among pullets.

This season's potato crop will not likely be up to par. Many of the potatoes, especially in fields that had been water-logged following the storm, are rotting. The rot is also being caused by the several days of extremely hot weather which followed the storm.

Several tomato growers in the lower part of the county have reported to Mr. Greenawalt that they are harvesting 7 to 8 tons to the acre, but the average yield of tomatoes in the county, it is expected, will be about four tons to the acre. The poor yield of tomatoes, according to Mr. Greenawalt, is due to the wet weather.

MORRISVILLE RESIDENT DEFENDANT IN 2 SUITS

$11,142.90 Damages Sought of Helen P. Jemison, in Claims

SOME OTHER CASES

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 14—A local woman, Helen P. Jemison, has been named defendant in two suits for damages. The plaintiffs seek the sum of $11,142.90.

The one suit is filed by Matthew Casserly in behalf of James Casserly, a minor. The defendant is being sued for the sum of $6,142.90. According to the claim, the plaintiff, who is the son of Matthew and Margaret Casserly, of Jackson, Mahanoy City, was riding in a car on October 2, 1932, when it collided with another car driven by Helen P. Jemison, the defendant.

It was alleged the accident took place about five miles north of Allentown. Medical expenses, amounting to $18, and a hospital bill of $10, were included in the claim. Repairs to the car are alleged to have amounted to $38.45. For the loss due to injuries to his car, including the medical expenses, Mather claims $1076.45, and James, a minor, claims the sum of $5,990.

In another trespass suit filed in the Court of Common Pleas, here, naming Helen P. Jemison as the defendant, Anna Streisel, a resident of Mahanoy City, who was a passenger in the Casserly car at the time of the accident, claims $5,000.

The plaintiff alleges her ankle was injured and that her injuries are of a permanent nature.

Charging her husband with cruel and barbarous treatment, Harriet Kiker, who gave her residence as Langhorne, has filed in divorce in the Court of Common Pleas, here.

The respondent, Anthony Kiker, and the libellant were married August 26, 1923, in Philadelphia.

Residence of the respondent is 2961 North American street, Philadelphia. The alleged cruelty took place on October 15, 1932, it was alleged in the libel.

New Stock Exchange In North Jersey Imminent

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—(INS)—Establishment of a new stock exchange in a northern New Jersey city appeared an imminent certainty today as the board of aldermen prepared to concur in action by the board of estimate approving the Undermyer emergency tax program.

Bitterly assailed by financial houses affected by it, the tax program calls for a levy on the gross earnings of brokerage houses, a 4-cent-a-share stock transfer tax, a levy on the gross incomes of public utilities and another on savings banks and fire and life insurance companies.

Officials of the New York Stock Exchange were non-committal on the reported establishment of a New Jersey securities mart. But they avoided discrediting the announcement that a member of an exchange brokerage firm has engaged the legal firm of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft to draft a plan for such an exchange.

FEDERAL BUREAU TO OPEN OFFICE HERE

Department of Labor and Industry to Have Branch in Bristol

ONE IN QUAKERTOWN

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 14—Within six weeks there will be established in Bucks county a full-time employment office operated under the Department of Labor and Industry of the United States, it was announced at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Doylestown by Ernest Kelly, Federal representative of the department.

Mr. Kelly was introduced by Lieutenant Governor Dr. Carmon Ross. The speaker informed Kiwanians that more complete details of the operation of the Federal employment bureau will be made public in the near future after the organization work is complete.

There will be established throughout Pennsylvania similar offices within the next six weeks. Some will be of a temporary nature while others will be full-time, and Bucks county, it was explained, will have the latter type office. It is quite likely that the main office will be located in Doylestown with probably a branch in Quakertown and Bristol.

"Only 135 counties out of 3000 counties in the United States have established re-employment or employment agencies," declared Mr. Kelly. "In England that condition would never happen and I am glad to announce that the condition will be remedied in this country. There are 12,000,000 unemployed in this country now and no system has ever been set up to find out what those people can do or are doing."

People employed at the new government agencies will be employed for the public works program. The bureau will contact all business men in Bucks county and the service of the bureau will be offered them.

PLAN NRA PARADE TO BE HELD HERE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Committee Named to Arrange the Details for a Big Demonstration

ASK ALL TO TAKE PART

Industries Will Be Invited To Have Floats in The Line

Plans are being laid for an NRA demonstration in Bristol which is to take the form of a street parade in the near future.

The project was started at a meeting of the general NRA committee held last night.

An effort is to be made to make the parade a huge affair and to have a number of musical organizations in line. The various industries are to be requested to be represented with floats and marchers and every organization in this vicinity will be asked to participate.

The committee in charge of the parade consists of David Landreth, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., Frank Voit and Joseph O'Donnell. This committee will meet tomorrow night to determine the exact date for the parade and to attend to other details in connection with the demonstration.

It is also proposed to have prominent speakers address a public meeting at the conclusion of the parade.

Posse Closely Pursuing Five Escaped Prisoners

MARKSVILLE, La., Sept. 14—(INS)—Having killed two escaped prisoners, critically wounded a third and captured three others, possmen today were closely pursuing five of the eleven convicts who shot their way out of the Angola penal farm Sunday in a sanguinary riot.

The search centered along the Red River near the village of Brouillette, where yesterday the officers surrounded the desperadoes' hiding place in a cotton field and poured a murderous fire into their midst.

Patrick Ryan and John Anderson were killed by the fusillade and James Russell was wounded, perhaps fatally.

Four men were killed and ten wounded in the break for liberty Sunday.

"Booster Rally" of C. E. Is Arranged For Tomorrow

The Bucks County Union of Christian Endeavor will hold its first big rally at the Deep Run Mennonite Church near Plumsteadville tomorrow at eight p. m., d. s. t. The young people of the county look forward to these meetings with great interest.

The Rev. Walter T. Jackson, brother of the pastoral counselor, will address the group on the subject, very appropriate for the beginning rally, "Courage For the Unknown."

The past summer is to be remembered for the national C. E. convention at Milwaukee, Wis., and for the state C. E. convention at Bucknell University, Lewisburg. Bucks County was more than well represented at both of these gatherings and many of the delegates are scheduled to recount their varied experiences on Friday.

This is the first rally of the year and will be a "Booster Rally."

Humorous Complications Seen in "International House"

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, W. C. Fields, Rudy Vallee, Stuart Erwin, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Sari Maritza, Col. Stoopnagle and Budd, Cab Calloway and his Orchestra, and Baby Rose Marie head the all-star cast of stage, screen and radio favorites in "International House," Paramount's musical comedy hit, at the Grand Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

The Girls in Cellophane, as comely a group of chorines as ever pranced before cameras, furnish the dance numbers.

"International House" is one of the most lavishly-produced films ever to leave Hollywood, and its cast includes probably more and bigger "names" than ever before were assembled for one picture. Its music is lively and fresh, and at least two of its numbers, "Thank Heaven for You," sung by Rudy Vallee, and "My Blue Bird's Singing the Blues," sung by Baby Rose Marie, are already popular favorites.

The plot deals with a group of big business representatives from all over the world who are assembled in a Chinese hotel to outbid each other on a marvelous new invention. The complications that result are highly humorous.

THE QUEST FOR MARKETS

In former depressions those pinched by hard times always had the opportunity of mounting the horse or hitching up the oxen and moving westward to take up a land claim or dig for gold. That relieved the employment situation in the settled East and created new markets farther west.

That meant that production, agricultural especially, increased by leaps and bounds as the frontier moved toward the setting sun and hundreds of thousands of acres were added to those under cultivation. For decades, generations, America was predominantly agricultural, feeding far-flung markets.

Production of foodstuffs was able to expand so rapidly because American cities were growing rapidly both in number and in population and America was the granary of the world. England converted our raw materials into manufactures which she traded back to us for food for her people.

The result was rapid geographical expansion and general prosperity, with brief interruptions, for the United States. No matter how much the Yankee farmer produced there were always markets waiting for his products.

Some such a safety valve is being sought by the national administration. It scans the world map for new markets for America's surplus products and manufactures. New lands to settle and develop are out of the picture, not because they do not exist but because there are already too many acres under cultivation. One-half the old safety valve is beyond use—the other half might be patched up.

DUTCH DROP TARIFF TRUCE

Keen disappointment felt by Holland at the failure of the London Economic Conference has taken concrete form in that government's withdrawal from the tariff truce negotiated by Washington to facilitate the work of the conference.

So hedged around by reservations is the truce that other governments have not let it hamper them in their pursuit of tariff policies adopted before the truce was signed. Holland prefers not to play the part of the hypocrite.

Holland's action is unfortunate, but the American people will not censure the Dutch for something they postponed as long as possible. Holland is an industrial country built on free trade. For centuries the Dutch have thrived by buying raw materials cheap and converting them into manufactures for export. Today its imports exceed its exports and hard times have taken possession of the land.

The Hague is on safe ground when it complains that its old tariff policy would prove economically fatal with all the other countries of the world striving for economic "self-sufficiency."

Of course American factories will suffer. Holland spent $45,407,000 for American goods last year, being our eighth best foreign customer. But since that figure represents but 2.8 per cent of our total exports the suffering will not be excruciating.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

SILVER FOX FRILLED ON EVENING COAT OF PURPLE LIKE LACE

By Alice Langelier.
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS—(INS)—Fur is fondled like the finest fabric on a fall and winter costumes appearing at the big couturiers.

De Marinis, an American newcomer to the Rue de la Paix, and one who is certain to find success trailing after him within a short time, frills finest silver fox like lace on a royal purple evening coat fit for any queen. Fur here is thrown on in an original and lavish manner and there is a tendency to use the most unexpected parts of the animal, parts that some of the furriers have always discarded. The necks of several thousand little minks, for instance, make a lovely little sports coat, very sleek and soft. And a heavy collar on a grey coat is entirely composed of fox paws put together in diagonal patterns to make an interesting motif.

The old-fashioned skunk would certainly never recognize his brother if he met him today made into a collar of black-blue and mint-green. "Algerette" skunk is a striking new fur discovery and makes a delicate feather setting for any fair face when twisted into a boa collar. Its brother is called "sky fox" and has the same silky hairs.

Max twists a piece of astrakhan or Persian lamb into most becoming high collars, flat applied yokes, sleeve caps or tall cuffs. A squirrel coat has the lovely skins worked in opposite directions and an extra scarf tucked inside the collar to fill up the gap.

Shipping Magnate and Slayer

Francis Joseph M. Grace, 57-year-old nephew of the late W. R. Grace, founder of the Grace Steamship Company, who was shot to death on the lawn of his Santa Cruz, Cal., home by Miss Wilhelmina Weltz (also above), former nurse to the shipping magnate's wife. After arrest Miss Weltz said she had waited for months to commit the crime.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.

Everybody has been wondering whether Vince Barnett would have the nerve to rib

Max Baer. He did and it was a pip. Max went out to Vince's house and Hollywood's champion insulter had a faked radio all prepared for him. The announcer came on with a news flash that Carnera had knocked Baer out during their fake fight for the movies and that Max had been unconscious for 15 minutes. Did he burn! And better and better, when they went to the Montmartre Cafe later on, Vince had people tipped at the door to come over and tell Baer they'd listened in.

One of our better known character actors was waxing enthusiastic the other evening about a certain director.

"That fellow can direct a scene with his back to you!" he exclaimed.

Ted Healy grinned.

"Yeah? I saw his last picture the other day. He must have directed that one from his office."

Sleepy-eyed Hollywood is relishing the second swell party in two weeks, the Donald Ogden Stewart ten o'clock-till-dawn soiree for Joan Payson.

It was too confusing. Everybody was supposed to come dressed as favorite movie star and, in some cases, one guess was as good as another.

The unmistakables were led off by Sid Grauman, who was practically perfect in wig and skirts as May Robson; Edmund Lowe, as Lionel Barrymore's Kringlein; Florence

Eldridge, as Jackie Cooper in "Skiptop"; Mrs. Dick Rogers as Dorothea Wieck in "Maedchen in Uniform"; George Hearst, as Oliver Hardy and Adrian as Chic Sale.

And what a howl when Adrian made his entrance, hidden, all but his feet, by a little pasteboard house with the familiar crescent shaped windows.

You'd have roared, too, to see diminutive Larry Hart come in as Tom Mix, leading a shetland pony.

Bob Benchley's impudence took them off their feet. He came as Hitler. Gene Markey, dressed as Joan Bennett, was another clever idea. And Bill Powell's Svengali makeup was so good that few recognized him.

As for the gossips, they duly noted that the Countess Di Frasso was with Cary Grant and that Gloria Stuart came with George Oppenheimer.

The Stewart party takes rank with the barn dance given last week by the Kenneth McKennas. It was long past daylight before the last of the revelers left the Vendome Cafe.

QUICK GLIMPSES.

Did someone say the gangster pictures were through? Warner Brothers are making three of them, "Finger Man," "Shakedown" and "From Headquarters."

Hollywood's most grateful guest is Ed Wynn. This summer he spent much of his time with the Chuck Reisners at Laguna Beach.

When they moved back to Beverly Hills, Mrs. Reisner found a new grand piano as a gift from Wynn.

The Mervyn Douglas had the anticipation blessed by two Balinese priests when they were visiting the island.

Dorothy Wilson had her hair cut as soon as she finished her last picture. Her contracts always called for it to be long.

Lilyan Tashman made her first public appearance since her illness at the Donald Ogden Stewart party.

DID YOU KNOW—

That John Miljan doesn't know whether his birthday is on the 7th, 9th or 11th of November?

BUSINESS METHODS NEEDED BY WOMEN IN HOME-MAKING AFFAIRS

Since women spend from 80 to 90 per cent of the money that comes into the family treasury, it is very important that they know general business procedure, says Miss Rhonda A. Armstrong, home economics extension representative.

Although many women are not interested in figures or in business, it is desirable that they have knowledge of the financial affairs pertaining to the family. If suddenly left alone to carry on, the added responsibilities will not bring confusion, sorrow, and perhaps loss of what is left if attention has been given these matters before. A knowledge of business also helps the housewife in managing the family finances so that more satisfaction of needs may be derived from even the smallest income.

The homemaker should know how, when and where to buy. She should know price trends and values so that she may recognize a bargain in the prominently advertised sales. She should know the advantages and disadvantages of charge accounts and installment buying. She should know how to handle a checking account. She should know about types of insurance, investments, and means of providing for the future.

When the homemaker knows business methods she not only manages better in getting more for her dollar but she inspires the confidence of the family in her ability. If she is wise in her spending, the others will come to her for help and advice. As a result, she will have a keener appreciation of the importance of children having money and learning early its value and how to spend that money.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

A razor blade shortage —and its cause

AMAZING public response—far exceeding our most optimistic estimates—greeted Gillette's drastic price reduction.

At this writing many wholesalers and retail dealers are out of stock. The factory cannot keep pace with demand. The reason for this is very simple. Quality must be maintained at any cost. This instruction is law in our factory.

In fact—today inspection is even more rigid than ever. Each operation is supervised with extreme care. We are pledged to a continuance of the highest standards of excellence.

Expansion to meet present demand without lessening quality now is being attained.

If your dealer is out of blades his stock should be replenished within a few days.

In the meantime we ask your indulgence and trust you will have no difficulty in finding a store which has Gillette, Probak and Valet AutoStrop blades.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

THE real apple season has arrived—apples which are good to eat out of hand and apples for pies and puddings. The well-known Jonathan apple is well adapted for both purposes. Peaches are still sufficiently plentiful for canning and pickling but their season is now nearly over.

Concord grapes are delicious for eating and in addition make jellies and jams which are general favorites. Most grape juice is also made from Concord grapes. Thompson seedless and the red Malaga grapes are firm and sweet and have their place as desserts and in fruit cocktails and salads.

Rocky Ford and pink meated cantaloupes are now in market together with the honeydew. Of the vegetables both white and sweet potatoes are plentiful as are onions and ripe tomatoes.

SPORT

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NOW UNDER WAY HERE

The Municipal Tennis Tournament got under full swing yesterday, and moved along as smoothly as it could have done, had plans been made a month in advance. So much interest has been manifested already that many are asking the question, "Why didn't somebody think about starting a tournament in the early summer?"

The first match in the first bracket was played yesterday morning, between Joseph Alta and Harry Dries, and was won by Dries, 8-6, 8-10, 6-1. At 5:45 o'clock on the Elks' courts, Charles Bowen and Wayne Fry met in a one-sided match, although it was more interesting than the score indicates. Fry was the younger man and youth always has the advantage. Fry won by the score, 6-0, 6-1.

In the second bracket, first round, Wallace Windus defeated Jos. Kallenbach, 6-1, 6-0; and Ewald Henry was victor over Willard Fagan, 6-3, 6-3.

Several matches were also played in the second round. Herbert Lawrence, Bristol's first seeded player, defeated Charles Rathke, 6-1, 6-1. Bud Pearson and James Gaffney fought it out on Dave Landreth's court with the result that Pearson won, 6-1, 6-1. Lester Thorne met David Morse on the Elks' courts in the afternoon, and at the close of the match the score stood 6-1, 6-1, in Thorne's favor.

The matches will be continued tomorrow evening with the exception of the one between Gene Clotti and Hampton Morris, which is scheduled for 12 o'clock noon. The winner of this match will play Harry Dries in the evening. Some of the matches scheduled for tomorrow follow: Andrew MacArthur vs. Wayne Fry; Ewald Henry vs. Wallace Windus; Dr. J. Fred Wagner vs. Wayne Warner; David Landreth vs. Franklin Fine; Herbert Lawrence vs. Bud Pearson.

TO ATTEND MEETING

The Daughters of America, Council 58, will attend the district meeting of Bucks No. 1 at Norristown, Monday evening. The members desiring to go are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Harry Hinman, New Buckley street, on or before Friday.

pitals, Philadelphia, was the main feature of the monthly meeting of Bucks County Medical Society, here, yesterday. Dr. Lee's talk which preceded the society's business meeting at the Bucks County Country Club was accompanied by showing of motion pictures.

Dr. Lee outlined a new method of treatment for what has formerly been called "post operative pneumonia," and told that in his opinion the number of cases have considerably decreased during the past five years.

Forty-one attended the session, with the president, Dr. James Collins, Bristol, as the presiding officer. Dr. Collins introduced Dr. Lee, and later had charge of the business session of the Bucks County physicians.

It was reported at the business meeting that over 600 children in the county have this month received the first injection of toxoid for prevention of diphtheria.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Society also conducted a business meeting while the doctors were in session.

A steak dinner was the initial event of the program.

DAIRYMEN CONTINUE OFFENSIVE

Philadelphia, Sept. 14—Eastern Pennsylvania dairy farmers today continued their offensive against the much protested Philadelphia Milkshed marketing agreement as the fourth session of the hearing opened. Meanwhile, Attorney R. S. Morris, former Ambassador to Japan and counsel for the Philadelphia Interstate Milk Exchange, an organization of distributors, expressed confidence that Scott-Powell dairies would answer charges that farmers were forced to buy bonds of a subsidiary distributors' company or lose their markets for milk.

Michael Levin, a North Wales, Pennsylvania farmer, testified a local creamery ceased purchasing his milk because of his activity in behalf of a farmers' organization opposing the milk agreement. He stated he was advised by H. D. Allebach, president of the Interstate Milk Producers Association, to sever his connections with the organization if he wished to regain his market. As a result of the loss of his market, Levin testified, he was forced to "dump" one thousand pounds of milk daily and sell some of his cows. "If the interstate is allowed to continue under the present arrangement, it will make the political machine of Philadelphia: the Al Capone mob of Chicago and the Machado regime of Cuba look like a bunch of shysters," he declared in conclusion.

John J. Shyder, a farmer of Easton, Pennsylvania, said he was in favor of the basic surplus plan, the target of farmers' attacks, but believed the quotas under that system should be based on an average over a 12 month period rather than a six months' period. He also advocated Federal control of interstate shipping of milk and Federal policing of the milk code.

The bond selling charge was the most sensational thus far developed at the hearing, which farmers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, "are protesting.

RIDE HORSES TO GET AID

Norristown, Sept. 14—When power failure decommissioned telephone lines, farmers rode on horseback early today to Pennsylvania to summon firemen to battle flames which destroyed the farm of Charles Ward, Greenland, with loss estimated at $12,000. Two horses and two cows perished in the blaze. Other live stock was saved. Riding into Pennsylvania on horseback, farmers fired rifles and guns to spread the alarm. The Pennsylvania Fire Company answered the call but the farm was beyond saving.

Champion's Greatest Reward

Greater than the title he had successfully defended and greater than the plaudits of the throng who watched him fight, was this greeting of Barney Ross by his mother, who traveled from Chicago to see her son do battle in defense of the lightweight title against Tony Canzoneri at New York Polo Grounds. Photo was taken in Ross's dressing room after his victory.

The Texas Tornado

By BURNLEY

IT appears that the game of polo will now have another 10-goal man; and Cecil Smith, the big man from Texas, certainly seems qualified to accept that highest rating. In the wildest, hardest-fought playing ever witnessed by the experts, Smith established himself as the outstanding American poloist at the recent East-West matches held in Chicago. Now Smith is leading his team in the open championship. Until Smith came up from the West Tommy Hitchcock, the prince of the game, was the only ten-goal man, but the ratings of Smith and of others who were in action in the Chicago fracas will have to be raised as a result of the contests.

Hitchcock, unfortunately, is out of polo for a good while, due to the injuries he received in the final game of the Chicago matches—and no man in any sport ever took a beating as gracefully as Hitchcock. It was the first time the ace poloist had been on the losing side in a big series. In addition, he realized that he would be forced to stay off the field when the open championships commenced. And all he said was: "We simply were walloped."

What he said was no overstatement, either. Smith's Westerners rode the Easterners ragged and showed themselves masters at a game in which the Easterners have always ruled the roost.

Those matches in Chicago marked the turning point in the game, according to many observers, and the current Open Championship will be closely watched to see if the story told in Chicago will be repeated. If it is, the tale will be in the nature of a bedtime story as far as the Long Islanders are concerned.

It is too bad that Hitchcock won't be able to meet Smith in this tourney, and no one regrets it more than Tommy himself, with the probable exception of Smith. His team can hardly be expected to do much without him.

Meanwhile, Cecil Smith rules the game.

"I'll tell you what to expect in BEER"

"Your first taste should get that rich, full-bodied flavor of fine beer. That taste should continue to the last swallow—smooth, even, uniform. And, always, it should drink down easily."

Granted! That the world's finest beers must have the most expensive malt and hops, great skill, long experience and proper maturing. But! There is another factor that definitely determines the quality of any beer—water!

Fine beers need water that is uniformly rich in certain mineral properties. Pilsener Beer, Munich Beer, Burton-on-Trent Ale are all what their water supplies make them.

In Norristown, Scheidt's have exclusive wells—800 feet deep—that give water so like these famous Continental waters that chemists cannot tell them apart.

It's this rarest of waters plus the most expensive materials plus skill, long experience and proper maturing that give Scheidt's Valley Forge Special Beer (True Pilsener Style) a rich, full-bodied flavor, softer mellowness that's always smooth and even and easy to drink down.
